Ethics for Everyone

Can you live a life of integrity AND ambition? For all the well-publicized failures of unethical business people, one might think that everyone cheats, but it is only the fools who get caught. Wrong! This session will take a refreshing look at personal and organizational ethics and how they translate into personal and professional success. Video clips of ethical scenarios give participations the opportunity to consider ethical implications of everyday decisions. "Ethics for Everyone" video demonstrates the many ways we act ethically and unethically at work and provide guidance on how to deal with ethical dilemmas.
